

Program Steps

1. Fill out the Vinyl Recycling Program Customer Data Sheet and fax to 888.715.8407 or call your InPro Sales Support Specialist at 800.222.5556 to:
  - » Discuss the product you wish to recycle and place your order for new product
  - » Determine the approximate amount of your credit for the return of the vinyl profile material.
  - » Request return shipping labels.
2. Remove the vinyl profile material from the aluminum retainer. If you need to remove the aluminum, take it to a recycling center in your area. If you are unsure of the closest recycling center in your area, call us and we'll help you locate one.
3. Pack and ship the vinyl material to InPro Corporation using the labels provided. You are responsible for the cost of shipping the material to InPro. Depending on the amount of material being returned and how it is packaged, it can be shipped via a freight carrier or UPS.
4. Upon receipt of your returned material, we will credit your order and recycle the material into new InPro products.

What happens to the vinyl after it's returned?

1. The product is returned to InPro Corporation's manufacturing facility in Wisconsin where the returned product footage is verified.
2. A credit of 25% of the original purchase price of the vinyl returned will be credited to your account.
3. We add the returned product to the raw material mix to produce new products. Our effort is to displace as much raw materials as possible without compromising product quality.

Examples of products we manufacture using your returned material include:

- » BluNose Vinyl Retainers
- » Handrail Impact Bumpers
- » Wall Guard Impact Bumpers

What if we want to recycle the vinyl locally?

1. Instead of returning the vinyl material to InPro Corporation, you can take your product to the nearest vinyl recycling center. For a list of the centers nearest you, contact InPro or visit www.vinylinfo.org/recycling/vinylrecyclingdirectory

The following IPC product or other manufacturer's equivalent are eligible for return using the InPro Vinyl Recycling Program.
